Should any act or omission by the customer, whether or not such act or omission was due to ignorance on the part of the customer, and whether or not such ignorance was reasonable or justified in the circumstances, prejudice the company's right of recovery, the customer shall be deemed not to have complied with the provisions of clauses 26.1 and 26.2.

27.4. The customer acknowledges and accepts that due to the fact that services are being rendered to it by the company, and monies are being disbursed by the company on the customer's behalf over an extended period, the rendering of an invoice by the company will not necessarily coincide with the month in which the customer takes delivery of the goods or alternatively the month in which the customer's trading partner takes delivery of the goods. The customer will not be entitled to defer payment of any invoice by reason of the foregoing.

27.5. The customer agrees that a finance fee will be raised on all disbursements from customs bill of entry date, unless otherwise agreed to by the company in writing. Should the customer settle any invoice in full prior to due date thereof, the customer shall contact the company to ascertain the quantum of any credit that may be due.

27.6. Should any amount not be paid by the customer on due date or should the customer breach any of these terms and conditions, then the whole amount in respect of all services rendered by the company to the customer and monies disbursed by the company on behalf of the customer shall become due and payable immediately. The customer shall also be liable to pay interest at the maximum permissible rate in respect of all overdue amounts, calculated monthly in arrears from due date of payment until date actual payment is received by the company in its bank account. Should the aforesaid interest not be paid in full within 7 days from date thereof, the same shall be added to the principal sum and the total shall form the principal debt, which shall then bear interest in the manner as set out above (compound interest).

27.7. Payment for all amounts owing to the company will be made by way of electronic transfer or direct deposit into the bank account of the company (or such other account as may be notified by the company from time to time). The customer shall bear all risk and liability where it makes any payment to the company by any other means where, for whatever reason such payments are lost or delayed, including instances where the company is required to collect payments from the customer.

27.8. Should credit facilities be granted, the nature and extent of such facilities shall be notified to the customer in writing. The company reserves the right to amend or withdraw any credit facilities at any time without prior notice and the nature and extent of such facilities shall at all times be in the company's sole discretion.

27.9. The customer shall be prevented from raising any objection or claim relating to any discrepancies between the services rendered and monies disbursed by the company as reflected on the company's invoices or documents, and those services and monies rendered or disbursed or any query relating to the amount reflected as being payable on any invoice or document (which discrepancies or queries may, without limiting the generality of the foregoing phrase, relate to non-performance or malperformance, the amount disbursed or the cost of any service) unless the customer has, in writing, advised the company of the precise nature of the discrepancy or query within 14 (fourteen) days of the date of such invoice or document.

27.10. In the event of the Customer breaching any of its obligations and/or failing to timeously make payment of any amount to the Company, the Customer agrees to pay, and shall be liable to pay, all legal costs incurred by the company on the attorney I own client scale including collection charges and tracing agent's fee and retrospectively all accumulated overdue interest which was not charged to the customer by the company.

30.2. Without in any way limiting the provisions of clause 30.1 all quotations and agreements are subject to revision without notice having regard to changes in currency exchange rates and upward movements in amounts payable by or on behalf of or at the instance of the company to third parties including, without limitation, freight, surcharges, insurance premiums, equipment rental and labour which charges and upward movements take place after quotation. Any revision of rates as aforesaid will be commensurate with the change in the currency exchange rate or the increase in such amounts payable. Any such increase shall, failing agreement between the parties, be determined by the then auditors of the company or any other auditors nominated by the company, who in such determination shall act as experts and not as arbitrators and whose decision shall be final and binding on the parties.

30.3. Customs Clearance and Fees charged by the company will be subject to revision annually. It is specifically noted that the sundry fees of the company and all third party charges and rate increases are subject to change without notice and, where applicable, all rates and charges are subject to currency fluctuation.

30.4. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, rates and fees quoted exclude hazardous, perishable, out-of-gauge and valuable cargoes. Should the company agree to deal with goods requiring special arrangements, goods requiring its prior consent or perishable goods then, without detracting from the other terms and conditions applicable to such goods, the customer acknowledges that the company shall be entitled to increase its charges and/or fees payable in respect thereof at any time.

31. NO CLAIMS AGAINST COMPANY DIRECTORS AND EMPLOYEES
